THAILAND'S Mor-Ya Pharmacy Volleyball Club won hands down in the International Datuk Bandar MBSA Cup Volleyball Championships in Shah Alam recently.

The Thais were simply too hot for the rest of the field in the six-team invitational tournament. They won all their matches in straight sets, including cruising to a comfortable 3-0 victory (25-14, 25-20, 25-21) over BHL Chinese Taipei in the final.

The 2017 SEA Games Project team (MBSA Malaysia) lost to Maldives 3-0 in the playoff for third spot. They went down 25-21, 27-25, 25-19.

The other teams in the men's competition included a club side from Hong Kong and a local team - Industrial Concrete Products (ICP) from Selangor.

The Malaysia Volleyball Association (Mava) vice-president Choy Teik San said it was good exposure for the national team under coach Tey Yeu Siong.

"The Thai team was too strong for the others but it was good experience for the local players," said Teik San.

The ICP team emerged champion in the women's competition. They beat City Rangers Volleyball Club 3-1 in the final.
